

Production Planner (m/f)

(Permanent position)

Do you enjoy planning and organisational processes within the produce sector? Interacting with farmers and commercial partners to help deliver key data? Would you like to be part of a young dynamic and global team?

Keen to learn more about the Production Planner position we have available?

As a member of the Branding team, you will be responsible to ensure the planning and coordination of planned weekly production volumes across the various territories, helping meet the increasing demand for our unique product.

What will you do?

Grower and Licensee Engagement:

- engage and collaborate with both large-scale and smallholder farmers and commercial partners to ensure the timely submission of planned production programs.
- providing growers and licensees with IT support in relation to submitting key data such as program volumes, certification and sales submissions.

Supply Chain Process:

- monitoring the flow of produces from seed to end consumer
- ensure clarity of planned weekly production volumes across the various territories while meeting the increasing demand and maintaining continuity of supply.

Reporting:

- collect all business data centrally and report regularly.
- ensure clarity of information and identify gaps in data collection.

Where will you work?

You will be based in Europe (including UK), working from your home office. Your manager, Alex, is based in UK.

You will be part of a global team, spread across various countries, focusing on the continued development of an already highly successful Branded Vegetable Product across the globe.

This position will require to travel (15-25%) and you will work closely with the businesses internal team and customer base.

Do you fit this profile?

You have:

- previous agricultural or horticultural background
- a solid understanding and experience of the vegetable industry in produce planning, sales or purchasing
- a high level of self-motivation, energy and enthusiasm to drive business agility
- anticipative and analytical skills as well as organisational skills along with a high level of autonomy and flexibility
- excellent communication and the skillset to establish and maintain a good relationship with clients
- the capacity to adapt yourself to many different cultures and environments as well as being able to demonstrate good teamwork skills
- a good level of English, other languages preferable (like Spanish etc.)
- a good command of the Ms Office package.

What are the next steps?

1. Send us your application in English (Resume and Cover letter) to recruitment.veg@sakata.eu until 15/11/2024
2. First contact with Mélanie (HR Business Partner)
3. Interview with Mélanie and Alex (Agronomist and Supply Coordinator)
4. Final interview with Dave (EMEA Brand Manager) and Lorraine (EMEA HR Director)